

Coral promoted to co-lead, jade holds price and identity, Forest Ink does all the reading. Seven core values plus three state values — nothing else enters the brand. Every hex below is final; this page is the reference.

Five rules that never break

1. Coral and Jade never touch — a surface tint always sits between them. The wordmark is the single exception, where the letter gap does the work.
2. Text on Coral or Jade is Forest Ink. Never white, never Deep Jade.
3. One coral band and one coral CTA per page. Coral is the ask, nothing else.
4. Prices are Jade everywhere, app and web. That consistency is the brand's memory hook.
5. The wordmark ships in exactly three colourways: light (Deep Jade / Coral ii / Jade stop), reversed (Jade / Coral ii / Jade stop), and one-colour Forest Ink.

Misuse

Buntii. Coral wordmark on white — fails contrast.

Buntii. Coral directly on jade — vibrates.

Buntii. Wrong typeface — Bricolage 800 only.

Buntii Missing the full stop. The stop is the auntie.
